Statements of the CEO and Chairman

Yoram Nave CEO

Haim Samet Chairman

The quarterly results reflects the continuation of the Company's trend of growth in revenues, while streamlining its expenses structure, which is indicative of the continued improvements in the quality of its core activity.

We are opening the year with high revenues and a good profit, despite the drops in capital markets. The gross premiums earned, contributions and receipts with respect to investment contracts in the reported period amounted to a total of NIS 7.2 billion, an impressive 29% growth rate! relative to the corresponding period last year. At the same time, the rate of expenses and commissions in relation to premiums and receipts has decreased.

Clal is continuing to lead in returns for members even during this period of market fluctuations, and is showing impressive numbers of positive net accumulation of NIS 5 billion in the fields of pension and provident. As such, the scope of the Company's managed assets reached a new peak at the end of the first guarter of 2022, and amounts to NIS 290 billion.

At the beginning of April, as part of a step designed to expand the activity of the holding company, we signed a memorandum of understanding with the MAX Group. This transaction, inasmuch as it is completed, is expected to imbue Clal Holdings with significant content, improve the Group's financial profile and its fortitude.

Clal Insurance and Finance is continuing to show a high level of profitability in its core business, and has shown an impressive growth in premiums and receipts in the amount of NIS 1.6 billion, compared to the corresponding quarter last year. Upon entering 2022, the Company Board of Directors reached a decision to start realizing an outline to strengthen the holding company and diversify its sources of revenue and profits. As part of this, a memorandum of understanding was signed to purchase MAX. This purchase can serve as an opportunity to expand the Group's activity by building a financial arm, alongside extensive activity at the insurance company.
